

Cherokee Daybreak™ Flowering Dogwood

Cornus florida 'Daybreak' PP6,320

SPECS

Height:	20'
Spread:	20'
Shape:	upright, spreading
Foliage:	variegated
Fall Color:	pink-red
Flowers:	white
Fruit:	capsule
Zone:	5

DESCRIPTION

Cornus florida, or Flowering Dogwood, is an excellent small tree for gardens! Their colorful bracts in early spring are long lasting, and most exhibit wonderful fall color. Provide this Dogwood type with organic, acidic, well-drained soils in partial shade. Full sun sites will need adequate moisture during the summer months.

Cherokee Daybreak™ has an upright, spreading habit and large white flowers. It features green leaves that have creamy white margins which are scorch resistant. Leaves turn red with pink margins in fall.

Plant in groupings, as a single specimen, or in woodland and naturalized gardens.

7679 Worthington Rd. Galena, OH 43021
614.891.9348PH 800.340.9348TF
www.acornfarms.com
©Acorn Farms, Inc.

